Training and Your Development

We actively encourage all staff to become appropriately qualified and/or to continue learning whilst working for PACE. Some of this training can be done on the job, with support from your manager but much of it will also need to be done in your own time outside the working day.

PACE will meet some of the costs of agreed courses including:

- Contributions towards course fees
- Reimbursement of some travel expenses
- Time back for some 'non-core' training

The actual amount is decided course-by-course depending on the overall cost and value to PACE. Should you leave within a specified time limit, we will expect to recover some/all the contributions made towards these costs. Details of this are set out in the Training Agreement, which you will be asked to sign.

Please also refer to the section on progressing to new roles.